KEY DEFINITIONS

Throughout this Contract, the following key terms are defined below.

ATTACHMENT E: VENDOR'S CONTRACT IMPLEMENTATION AND TRANSITION PLAN

In order to properly implement your business, Vendor typically requires thirty (30) days from the time of award. This allows time to set up account numbers, load pricing and contracts, increase inventory in our distribution centers and implement the desired technology approach. At time of award, we will work with MMCAP to create a detailed, mutually agreed upon timeline for implementation including major milestones and the resources necessary. Vendor has previous experience on-boarding large providers. We have resources dedicated to the on-boarding process to assist in a seamless integration. Upon award, Vendor can provide a Sample Implementation Plan if requested by MMCAP.

Vendor's MMCAP Member onboarding procedure will include standard account setup, MMCAP Membership ID verification, loading MMCAP Member account to MMCAP-specific price sources and completion verifications. If there are any questions or discrepancies in the account setup request inquiries are sent directly to the MMCAP Member or to MMCAP for verification or confirmation.

Vendor will review MMCAP's Membership roster to ship-to locations with Vendor's customer listing to identify those Members that are not attached to the MMCAP Contract. If a Member on the roster is not currently associated in the Vendor's listing with the MMCAP Contract, Vendor will take the steps to input the Member information in our system and load the necessary pricing once an account is created. Vendor cannot share our entire customer listing with MMCAP.

Vendor's MMCAP Member onboarding procedure will include account setup, MMCAP Membership ID verification, loading to MMCAP-specific price sources and completion verifications. If there are any questions or discrepancies in the account setup request inquiries are sent directly to MMCAP for verification or confirmation. The same process is followed for transitioning accounts, with the exception of account setup. Existing customers follow the same confirmation and verification process and then are moved from their current price source to the MMCAP-specific price source.

MMCAP Member's account will determine the appropriate contact information for customer service and the dedicated sales representative or support staff to assist with Member inquiries. Upon award, Vendor will provide detailed contact information for each entity responding in this Proposal.

Vendor verifies on-boarding of new customers to help ensure compliance with contractual pricing and performs random, periodic price reviews. ATTACHMENT J: VENDOR'S PRODUCT RECALL PROCEDURES/POLICIES

RECALLS PROCESSING

May 10, 2017

Dear Customer:

You have requested information on our procedures for handling a Product recall. As a domestic distributor of medical surgical supplies, McKesson Medical-Surgical Inc., McKesson Medical-Surgical Minnesota Supply Inc., and Moore Medical, LLC (collectively, "McKesson") has deployed processes for the administration of the recall of Products, whether such recall is initiated by a Manufacturer voluntarily or is directed by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA"). These processes are designed to (i) support compliance with Medicare quality standards as well as state and federal regulatory requirements, (ii) help respond to public safety concerns and (iii) support our service goals to our customers.

Our Recall Policy:

As a wholesale distributor of drugs, biologics and devices, McKesson Medical-Surgical Companies ("MMS") will respond promptly to and cooperate with a Product recall ("recall") notice received from a Manufacturer, supplier or importer (collectively hereafter referred to as "Manufacturer") with an express interest in protecting public safety and promoting a customer's knowledge of the recall and ability to effectively respond. This policy applies to all MMS locations including distribution centers. To the extent that individually identifiable health information (or Protected Health Information) of MMS customers or MMS' customer's patients is relevant to a recall, MMS will maintain the confidentiality of the Protected Health Information in accordance with HIPAA privacy and security standards. Recall documentation will be maintained in accordance with MMS' Records Information Management Policy and Records Retention Schedule.

Our recall process involves multiple steps and guidelines for managing the many stages involved in a Product recall. The content of this document focuses on our process as it pertains to you, our customer.

Our recall process includes:

- Internal review of the Manufacturer notification letter.
- Notification to McKesson distribution centers of the recall and the affected lot numbers, when there is inventory and/or sales history records for the subject Product(s) of the recall.
- When necessary, segregation of affected stock in our warehouses and containment actions are taken to address the disposition of the affected Product(s) accordingly.
- Notification to potentially affected customers, usually via written notice.
- Review for other considerations or actions related to FDA regulations for the specific recall.

Customer Notification:

Notifications provided to McKesson customers are based on our sales history records. Our analysis is based on the subject Product(s) of the recall and the timeline provided by the Manufacturer including shipments from when the affected Product distribution began. McKesson tracks all individuals and entities to which it has distributed the affected Products. When McKesson receives written notification from a Manufacturer regarding a Product recall, McKesson will send a recall notice to all customers who potentially purchased affected Product(s), rather than just notifying customers that purchased a specific lot number of affected Product(s). This process results in our customers having a higher awareness of recalls and the ability to validate if they have affected Product(s).

For McKesson customers, whose patients or end-users that receive drop shipments of medical-surgical Products, any recall notification from McKesson, will be sent to the billing address of the customer account on file with McKesson at the time of the notification; not to the patient or end-user address.

Recall Information Provided to Customers:

The notification sent to McKesson's customers contains the following information:

- A summary of the Product issue and the potential health and/or safety impact to end-users of the Product.
- Specific identification of the Product(s) purchased from McKesson, including NDC code, Manufacturer item number, McKesson item number, Product description, affected lot numbers(s) and expiry date(s), as applicable.
- Instructions to the customer including screening for any affected inventory at their location, updated use instructions and return or disposal, as applicable to the subject recall.
- When a Product return is specified or optional, directions for return (as applicable) to (i) the Manufacturer, (ii) a third party logistics service or (iii) to McKesson via contact with our customer service teams.
- Contact information needed to execute any required Product handling instructions, or to direct inquiries to the Manufacturer for clinical or Product use related concerns.

The customer notification is usually sent via U.S.P.S. mail and includes reply forms (when applicable) and any additional documentation provided by the Manufacturer to complete the Product recall communication.

Shipment details such as a listing of Products shipped, including dates, quantities and ship-to locations, are not provided as a normal course of administering the recall process. However, customers may later request a detailed listing, including drop shipments made on their behalf, for the time period outlined in the recall notification. The foregoing provides a high-level summary of McKesson's policy and procedure and is not intended to be all-inclusive.

The recall process is administered by the Compliance and Regulatory Affairs (CARA) Department.

Sincerely,

Brian Green

Further Details on Our Business Continuity Program

To help ensure our response to business disruptions meets expectations for safeguarding our customers, people and property, McKesson has implemented a cross-functional approach to business continuity:

McKesson Medical-Surgical Contract MMCAP MMS18000

Emergency Response

- Each facility has a dedicated Emergency Response Team.
- Each facility has a unique Emergency Response Plan which addresses multiple crisis scenarios.

Disaster Recovery

- IT processes and technologies have recovery and failover plans.
- Critical facilities and business processes have dedicated Incident Response teams who handle immediate response to business disruptions.

Business Continuity

- Dedicated Business Continuity Coordinators support inter-departmental response to disruptions.
- Coordinators maintain protocols for inter-departmental response to multiple possible types of business disruptions.

Example Response to a Typical Business Disruption

McKesson responds to multiple business disruptions every year, including hurricanes, snow storms and other events. Here is a summary of the steps we take to prepare for and recover from a typical weather-related emergency.

Event Detection and Preparation

Our facility leaders and business continuity coordinators monitor local and regional weather conditions. If potential threats are detected:

- Local and regional Incident Response teams are notified of the possible event. These teams include Members from the Distribution Center, Transportation, Customer Service, and Information Technology departments.
- Once notified, local distribution center teams and other facilities will prepare for the event and create operating plans in conjunction with local business partners.
- Our Customer Service department will also prepare by developing a staffing plan and working with customers as needed to pre-order goods.

Event Management

During the event, our Incident Response teams meet regularly to share status updates, modify operating plans and respond to any specific failures. Examples of these responsibilities include:

- If a facility is damaged or is inoperable, the facility's Emergency Response Team will manage evacuations, building repairs or other activities as necessary to restore service as quickly as possible.
- Distribution center leaders, transportation leaders, and customer service representatives work closely together to respond to local requirements, reroute and prioritize deliveries and monitor fleet operations.
- Distribution center and transportation leaders work with our carrier partners to ensure service disruptions are minimized for our customers.
- Twice a day, our Business Continuity Coordinator:
 - o Hosts a call with our Incident Response teams to discuss the ongoing nature of the disruption, as well as impact on our facilities, employees and customers; and
 - o provides a summary communication to our senior leadership and other department leaders regarding status and actions taken.

Event Resolution

Once the event is resolved:

- Our team reviews the impact of the event and any outstanding impacts to customer orders;
- our Incident Response Team works to complete any outstanding orders as quickly as possible; and
- finally, our Incident Response Team reviews the management of the event for continuous improvement.

The following sections provide additional details on how our departments are prepared to handle business disruptions, which may affect our customers.

McKesson Medical-Surgical Contract MMCAP MMS18000

Sales Order Management

Receiving customer orders is critical to the McKesson Business Continuity program. In the unlikely event our online ordering system fails, we have an alternate plan for taking manual orders through our Customer Service Department. We currently offer a variety of methods for you to complete orders with us during an emergency or business disruption, including:

- Our website at: mms.mckesson.com, which also provides alerts regarding current business disruptions;
- place your orders directly with your sales representative via phone or fax; and
- place your orders directly with our customer service representatives via phone or fax.

In the unlikely event our core sales order management system experiences an outage, the McKesson web-based ordering system can be used to capture orders. These orders will be held and submitted when the core sales order management system becomes available.

Information Technology and Cyber Security

McKesson maintains Disaster Recovery plans covering software failures, failures of our data-centers, and servers supporting our Enterprise Resource Management system and our distribution centers. These plans allow us to provide continuity in systems operation and availability and include the following key items:

- Redundancy in our autonomous distribution centers and Customer Service facilities;
- backup procedures detailing how Customer Service, Information Technology, and Operations collaborate so customer orders are placed, processed and shipped in the event of a system failure;
- complete system failover capability ensures we can migrate complete system functionality to an alternate site; and
- Cyber security preparedness, testing, and response.

Redundant Technologies for Customer and Internal Information Systems

McKesson maintains separate instances of its Corporate Information systems in dual state-of-the-art data-centers. Further, we help ensure all customer-facing technologies have redundant backups in case the primary system has a failure.

- Our databases employ failover technology to protect against a service outage should we encounter a hardware failure.
- Each distribution center has a dedicated server so the distribution center can operate independently of the core system (distribution centers can continue to receive orders if the central system is operative).
- The core Enterprise Resource Planning system is housed in a separate location from our distribution centers to provide protection from impacts affecting select geographies.

Complete System Disaster Recovery Services

McKesson has contracted with a leading third-party recovery Services provider as a disaster recovery partner. This means if our data-centers, Enterprise Resource Planning system or other information technologies experience a complete failure, we can restore complete service at the partner's site. Services include:

- Alternate Site Recovery: In the event of a disaster, our computing environment would be restored at a separate geographic location;
- Comparable Computing Equipment and Hardware: Our recovery partner provides hardware comparable to those currently in use in our in-house production environment;
- Recovery Management Services: Our recovery partner provides experienced recovery technicians knowledgeable in all operating system platforms; and
- Annual Testing: In conjunction with our recovery partner, we conduct an annual disaster recovery exercise to test our current capabilities and procedures.

Cyber Security

McKesson maintains an Information Security and Risk Management program based on the internationally recognized ISO 27001 framework. By implementing a defense-in-depth strategy, our approach is to ensure our IT environments are protected against cyber threats and to mitigate the impact of a potential system outage due to an attack.

McKesson Medical-Surgical Contract MMCAP MMS18000

Order Fulfillment and Distribution Centers

McKesson operates a network of distribution centers across the United States. Each distribution center maintains a Business Continuity Plan including objectives and responsibilities during business disruptions. In the event of a business disruption, these plans allow our distribution centers to quickly communicate with carriers, Customer Service, Sales Support and other departments to maximize service availability and communication with customers.

Logistics and Transportation

The Transportation Team leverages a variety of options to get orders to your door including national and local carriers, private fleet, direct shipment, and other alternatives. During a business disruption, our team monitors service interruptions and coordinates communications between our carriers and distribution centers frequently to provide up-to-date communications to our Customer Service teams. We work to ensure prompt notifications for all affected deliveries. We recognize timely deliveries are imperative for our customers and work through all possible service options to resolve delivery issues and get the Product to its destination as quickly as possible.

Customer Service and Support

McKesson operates a network of call centers with automated failover across the United States. This allows our customer service representatives to quickly respond to customer requests regardless of the situation or location. Our customer service representatives work directly with local Sales Support and Operations to provide the best level of support in placing emergency orders or identifying orders impacted by a business disruption.
