8. Training. Most training pertains to CDL issues. Regarding the training offered under E-3, CDS has provided the following brief explanations of each:

Supervisor Training - (Reasonable suspicion) training as required by 49 CFR Part 382.603 and covers the signs and symptoms of controlled substance abuse and alcohol misuse.

Designated Employer Representative - this training covers the policy and procedures used to administer a drug and alcohol testing program, 49 CFR Part 40 DOT regulations, disciplinary actions for violation of rules and consortium services. Typically, CDS will do Designated Employer Representative training for companies and/or agencies that fall under 49 CFR Part 40 regulations, however, if an agency doing non-DOT testing would like to be a part of DER training, it would be educational for them.

Driver Training - this training covers the policy procedures that drivers need to know under 49 CFR Part 382, including who is subject to drug and alcohol testing, background checks, what drivers are prohibited from doing, how tests are conducted, what substances are covered and the consequences for drivers who engage in prohibited drug and alcohol use.

Collector Training – this training covers the procedures that an individual would need to know to become a urine drug screen collector. An individual who completes this training is able to perform DOT and non-DOT urine drug screen collections.

Breath Alcohol Technician - this training covers the procedures that an individual would need to know to become a breath alcohol technician. An individual who completes this training is able to administer alcohol screening tests, confirmation tests and can calibrate an evidential breath test machine.

Screening Test Technician - this training covers the procedures that an individual would need to know to become a screening test technician. An individual who completes this training is able to administer alcohol screening tests only.

Federal Regulation Update Training - this training covers any regulation changes made by the federal government in Part 40 or Part 382 that would require procedural changes affecting the DERs, drivers or both.

Commercial Driver's License Drug & Alcohol Clearinghouse – this training covers the proposed rule which will require employers, MROs, SAPs and consortiums to report any positive test results or refusals to test. It will help administrators understand the upcoming regulations.
